After Consulting With Democratic Politicians, the Morning Examiner Refused to Publish Glasman's Reply to Mud-Slinger Smurthwaite—After Allowing a Most Cowardly Attack on Mr. Glasman in the Examiner, the Latter Refuses to Publish a Reply, even after It Had Been Paid for as An Advertisement—Read Glasman's Reply and Then Ask Why.

GLASMAN'S REPLY TO SMURTHWAITE'S ATTACK

One Thousand Dollars Deposited in Bank for Proof of Coarse Insults—Smurthwaite Lost to All Sense of Decency.

Charles A. Smurthwaite: Do you mean to insinuate that I ever received a dollar from "Your Belle, Queen of Ogden," or that I ever spent a dollar, directly or indirectly, at her place? Can you show that I ever visited her place other than on two occasions when I accompanied preachers on trips of inspection?

Speak out! You have my permission to make public any act of mine in connection with "Belle, Queen of Ogden," or with that of any other public woman.

Chas. Smurthwaite, you know that my moral life is clean. Why then do you insinuate that I have relations with "Belle, Queen of Ogden"? You squirm and whine because I called you a "liar" when a few days ago in the Democratic convention, you assailed my character. What better word could I have used for such malicious, false and contemptible assaults as you make? Have you no respect for your own family, even if you have none for mine?

I have deposited $1,000 at the First National Bank to be paid to you on presentation of the proof that I ever had any discreditable or any other relations of any kind with Belle London or with anybody representing her. Now, if you still object to being called a base liar present your proof and receive $1,000.

DIES AT AN SUDDENLY EARLY HOUR

WARREN FOSTER, PROMINENT NEWSPAPER MAN, DIES.

One of the Best and Most Favorably Known Men in the State—Had Been a Populist Leader.

Warren Foster, born at Owenton, Owen county, Kentucky, March 30, 1854, the greatest advocate against capital punishment in the United States and one of the most active organizers of the Populist party, died at the home of his brother, Horace S. Foster, 2158 Harrison avenue, in this city, at 2:55 o'clock this morning, of a complication of stomach and liver diseases. Mr. Foster was taken ill about ten days ago at Aberdeen, Idaho, and immediately came to Ogden for treatment. Two days ago he was taken to his bed and his condition gradually grew worse. Although everything known to medical science was done for him he failed to rally.

Mr. Foster came to Utah in 1894 from Hutchinson, Kansas, where he was an active member in the organization of the National Populist party. In Salt Lake City he established a newspaper called the Inter-Mountain Advocate which was later changed to Living Issues. Mr. Foster never held any political position, although he was twice the Populist candidate for congress from Utah—in 1896 and 1898. In 1902 he was the Socialist candidate for supreme judge.

In Kansas as well as in Utah Mr. Foster was a strong advocate against capital punishment, which gave him a national reputation.

Mr. Foster was connected with various newspaper enterprises in Utah and adjoining states and at the time of his death was the publisher and proprietor of the Aberdeen, Idaho, Gazette. He was assisted in this publication by his son, T. Dewitt Foster.

He is survived by a wife and seven children—Mrs. Florence Chamberlain, a member of a theatrical organization in Indiana; Mrs. Mattie Cope, of Salt Lake City; T. Dewitt Foster, of Aberdeen, Idaho; Mrs. Hattie Foster, of Sutherland, Ruth and Wayland Foster of Salt Lake City. Two brothers, George T. Foster of Wichita, Kan., and Horace S. Foster of Ogden, also survive him.

Mr. Foster was a loving husband and father and a loyal brother. In business circles he made a legion of friends for his integrity and honesty and in political life made few enemies, but won the friendship and favor of those with whom he came in contact. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Dr. R. J. Schultz, Chiropactor, has moved from 457 26th to 2624 Adams ave.

LAST OF THE ECCLESIASTICAL AUTHORITY

The sermon Sunday evening at the Congregational church will concern itself with the question of authority in religion. The pulpit editorial will appear under the caption, "I Meet a Suicide." The musical program will be the reflective, "Whisper—The Choir."

"My God, My Father, While I Stray," "Marston—Mr. White," "Hold Thine Own Hand," Bridges—Miss Holberg.

The service begins at 7:30. The public will be welcomed.

"GENTLEMAN FROM MISSISSIPPI" COMING

"The Gentleman From Mississippi" has been booked for the Orpheum theater at Ogden for the night of November 1. A number of first class row shows will appear at the theater during the month of November. The vaudeville will be played at Logan on those nights.

FAMILY OF CHARLES M'FARLAND DEEPLY DISTRESSED.

Mr. McFarland Was Working in His Field When Stricken Down by Apoplexy.

While at work in a field near his home in West Weber, shortly before noon today, Charles McFarland, a well-to-do farmer and son of Archibald McFarland, suffering from what was believed to be a stroke of apoplexy, sank to the ground and died.

The death comes as a great shock to the family and friends, as he was in apparently splendid health when he went about his daily labors this morning.

Shortly before noon Mr. McFarland was seen to sink to the ground by members of his family. They rushed to his side and carried him into his home, where he expired a few minutes later.

Mr. McFarland was about 45 years of age. He is survived by a wife and children and his parents.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the many friends who through your thoughts and acts of love, helped to lighten the load of sorrow in the death and burial of our beloved husband and brother, George E. Maule, we extend our heartfelt thanks. When your hour of sorrow comes may you enjoy the same loving assistance as we did.

FOOTBALL GAME THIS AFTERNOON

The Ogden High school eleven will pit their speed and strength against an opponent which is certainly worthy of the greatest respect, when they tackle the football team representing the All-Hallows college of Salt Lake City this afternoon.

The game, which is scheduled for 3 p. m. at the Fair Grounds, promises to be one well worth seeing.

The reputation of the football talent which is usually turned out by the coaches of the theological school need not be mentioned to local football enthusiasts, but the appearance of the local boys, together with their promising practice work, assure us of an aggressive attempt for a victory, regardless of the premature predictions of the football sharps of the capital city, that their boys will win.

The line-up which is printed below shows a shake-up that will doubtless surprise those who have not kept closely posted on the doings of the High school teams during the last two weeks. That disastrous game with the University men taught Captain Douglass and his coaches that there was something wrong, and this shake-up, with the possible substitution of three players, it is thought, will bring the results desired.

The college team has had some hard luck this year as many of the players who were counted on to uphold the reputation of the school, failed to return and some of those who did return have been disabled in practice. Nevertheless the Catholics declare that when the local students make a score it will be by hard work only.

"Shorty" McMaster is captaining the college team this year. He is a player of exceptional merit; has played the quarter-back position for a number of years on other teams, and is an old hand at the game.

Fitzmaurice, considered the best end in the state, will be seen wearing the colors of the All-Hallows college, and the man who plays opposite him must expect to be given the time of his life.

The rest of the college team is comparatively unknown but if Coach Harmon can be relied upon, he has a team this year which will take care of itself.

The Ogden boys are confident of victory and are not worrying much as to the outcome of today's game.

Yesterday a large gang was sent to the fair grounds to fence off the field so that the spectators will not interfere with the playing.

The line-up for today's game will be:

Position	All Hallows	Fitzmaurice
End	R. E. McKay
Stone	R. E. McKay
Watson	R. T. N. Boyle
Sample	R. G. Burk
Griffin, W. Smith	C. L. Boyle
C. Smith	L. G. Callahan
Cheekies	L. G. Conley
Johnson	L. E. Coulton
Oldham, Moran	G. B. Young
Evans	R. Hb. McMaster
Boyle, Moyer	R. Hb. Stevens
Douglass	F. B. Johnson
	C. C. Crouch

OGDEN FIRM COMPLIMENTED

Perhaps the most attractive window in any of the downtown stores is one shown by the Boyle Hardware Co. With a background of green velvet, the trimmer has brought out a very pretty effect. With a beautiful display of Brass Goods, including Jardiniere, Umbrella Jars, Chinese Dinner Gongs, Fern Dishes, Smoking Sets, Electric Piano Lamps and about 15 styles of Candlesticks. One need not now send out to town for this class of goods, as the Boyle Hardware Co. are to be congratulated on their display.

IN POLICE COURT

Charles McMillen and Sam Beatty were each fined $5 or serve five days in the city jail for drunkenness, and the following forfeited $5 bail for the same offense: M. O'Donnell, George Brooks, Albert Smith, Ed Jones, C. P. Scarberry and J. E. McGuire. These men were all drunk yesterday, and it seems that the day was a record breaker in that line. The cause of the sporadic drinking cannot be particularly accounted for. There was no payroll handed out to the drinking king yesterday.

V. H. Ross, a parasite of the "alley," appeared before the judge and changed his plea of not guilty of vagrancy to that of guilty. He was fined $99 or serve 99 days in the city jail. The testimony given by the officers was that Ross is living on the earnings of a woman in the underworld. The court stated in passing sentence upon the man that he was sorry he could not send Ross to the penitentiary for a long period of years, and that he thought the next legislature should take cognizance of such cases and pass a special enactment making such practice a felony.

A. Wilson, colored, was sentenced to a fine of $10 or ten days in jail for vagrancy. William Duffy was given the same sentence for the same offense, and Charles Williams was placed under a $20 bond awaiting a hearing on the charge of mendacity.

Mrs. Catherine Parsons was arraigned before the court on the charge of vagrancy. She pleaded not guilty, and a few moments later testified that she was found by the officers locked in a room with two men, a negro and a white man. She was sent to jail for ten days.

George Williams, a colored man, was called before the judge on a charge of forgery. He was placed under a $300 bond for his appearance in court for a preliminary hearing.

Richard Roe, a cripple, pleaded not guilty of disturbing the peace. He was committed to the custody of the officers with instructions to them to have the city physician make an examination as to the extent of the alleged rheumatism of the defendant. Sentence will be passed when the physician makes a report.

PLAIN CITY PEOPLE EXPRESS THANKS TO OGDEN

The people of Plain City, last evening, adopted resolutions of thanks and appreciation to the people of Ogden and particularly the business men, who so kindly contributed to defray the expenses of the banquet which was held here yesterday, in commemoration of the completion of the car line to that town.

Carver of the Retail Merchants association, who was requested to convey the thanks of the people of Plain City to the Ogden merchants, said that the people of the thriving little town were very grateful to the people of Ogden for their generous response for contributions and for their presence at the Railroad Day celebration at that place on Friday. He also said that the completion of the line to Plain City looked upon as a steel tie which binds the two places in the commercial and industrial world as well as shaping the future for a prosperous community.

SEWING CLUB ENTERTAINED

The L. T. and E. Sewing club was delightfully entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Lizzie Blackwell, 478 21st street. The house was prettily decorated throughout with a profusion of the bright colored autumn leaves. After various amusements the guests entered the dining room. The table was laid for Miss Rose Hartog, Margaret Wilkinson, Marie Gordon, Mable Bell, Ida Baxter, Lizzie Smith, Cecilia Richardson and Dorothy Childs.

DISCOVERY OF GOLD IN LIBERIA.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Discoveries of precious stones and gold in Liberia have been reported by the state department by George W. Ellis, United States charge d'affaires, at Monrovia, capital of the Liberian republic. According to Mr. Ellis one company has already begun to mine gold deposits and he believes that American capital might be profitably invested in the interior of Liberia.

ACCIDENT IN THE AUTOMOBILE RACE

New York, Oct. 16.—The first accident in New York's last 34th annual automobile race at Brighton Beach motor track occurred this morning when the Palmer and Singer car, driven by Lescault, lost its left front wheel which crashed into Miss Alice Roberts of Brooklyn, breaking her shoulder bone and inflicting internal injuries. The driver and mechanic of the car were unhurt.

Louis Chevrolet, driving a Buick car, maintained a consistent lead during the early morning hours. At the eighth hour he was a full fourteen miles ahead of the former record, having completed 422 miles. His average speed for the eighth hour was nearly 53 miles an hour, while in one hour he rounded the mile circle 57 times, establishing a new world's record for a circular track.

GREATEST COMMUNION SERVICE EVER HELD IN COUNTRY

Pittsburg, Oct. 16.—The greatest communion service ever held in the world's history will take place here tomorrow morning when it is expected 75,000 Disciples of Christ and members of the Christian denominations will assemble in Forbes field baseball park. Special trains will be run from many towns and cities.

The arrangements for the communion service will be carried out by thousands of the attendants at the centennial convention of the Disciples.

Hundreds of police will maintain order. Every participant will register so that the exact number of those receiving communion will be known.

SEC. BALLINGER RETURNS FROM YOSEMITE VALLEY.

Yosemite, Cal., Oct. 16.—Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger returned here yesterday from a three days' trip through Yosemite National park. He gave out this statement of his investigations:

"My investigations included trips through Yosemite valley, Hetch-Hetchy valley and, by a portion of my party, to Lake Eleanor. The information gained by me is to be used in matters concerning the general administration of the park. It is important that much new road construction be undertaken and better facilities provided the public if the Yosemite is to be given that importance by the national government that its natural wonders and beauties demand. I am anxious to increase its revenues."

In the secretary's party were Geo. Otis Smith, director of the geological survey; Engineers Hill and Hopson of the reclamation service; John Muir and Major Fossythe, U. S. A. superintendent of the park.

The secretary will leave for Los Angeles tonight.
